Personal Profile

I am a committed, hard-working and diligent individual who is always keen to get involved, whatever the project may be. Bringing a calm and collected approach to the respective stage of production, I am constantly looking to expand my knowledge of the filmmaking process which I am so passionate about. Working in a team, whether big or small-scale, I am eager to challenge myself. I am in my final year of University at The University of Portsmouth where I study Film Production.
